Mechanical microdermabrasion is a non-surgical method of intensive epidermabrasion or superficial exfoliation. The difference can be seen after one treatment. With its gentle sand blasting style technique it painlessly erases the superficial top layer of skin resulting in removing dead skin cells, stimulating the skin to renew its self and reducing fine lines & wrinkles.

MESO RE-VITALIZE

The Meso Re-Vitalize method uses the technique of micropuncture (microperforation) of the epidermis. As a result the epidermal structure is no longer a barrier. Active substances such as skincare products will now penetrate through the epidermis and spread within the dermis (deeper layers of the skin) precisely where there action is the most efficient. In this way, active substances stimulate cell metabolism in a more intensive manner and force regeneration process, mechanical perforation of the epidermis stimulates skin receptors and increases blood circulation, collagen & elastin. In return this helps slow down the ageing process whilst maximizing the benefits of your skincare products.

Per treatment €85

VEIN GOGH THERAPY

Vein Gogh is the latest treatment for unwanted, visible blood vessels, such as those frequently found around the nose and chin, which fail to respond satisfactorily to IPL or Yag laser therapy. This Ohmic Thermolysis system uses microburst technology where a tiny probe is inserted directly into the blood vessel.

The tip of the probe delivers a burst of high frequency energy and the heat coagulates the blood, which collapses the vessel wall. This is NOT electrolysis or sclerotherapy. The overlying skin is not damaged as the heat is only released deep down inside the blood vessel.

Vein Gogh treats broken capillaries, thread veins, cherry spots, skin tags, pigmentation and age spots. A full consultation and medical history is required prior to treatment but a visible if not a full result will be seen after 1 session.

Prices start from €50
